

Continuation

It has been 7 months since I wrote about pursuit of Nirvana/conquer death.

It is really easy to focus your mind on a thought and not think & be empty as well.

Just the feeling of body is left which will go off once Karma goes away.

I always remind myself of Kung Fu Panda when Shifu comes and gives example of growing tree, getting fruit.

Everything happens at its own time, neither early nor late.

Patience is all you need!

I can easily leave everything and go and live with Swami, Guru but want to achieve something in academic life so plan is to complete my PhD (have perfect guide who suits me), later meet Prof Nils Thurey (whose work I admire a lot) and work with him and say Goodbye to academics, research.

It is quite useless when I picture myself on my death bed and what if I do not have highest realization, what if death comes before I conquer it.

So, live with kindest, warmest people who have helped me so much in life, travel across countries to various temples and really live life.

When like-minded people are in a group together, it will happen by itself.

So, for 5-7 years just be Dhyana magna, talk less, watch more, sing more and lose passage of time
